Faculty Presentation Speech: I’ve enjoyed having all four of these Outstanding English Student award winners in my ENG 283: Images of Women literature class this semester. All of them have brought up insightful and creative comments and questions that challenged our assumptions and pushed the class into deeper levels of critical thinking and analysis. Stephanee Dries is not only a creative and dynamic writer and thinker, but she's also organized and responsible. She can be counted on to not only be prepared but also bring original, thoughtful ideas to the table.
