Faculty Presentation Speech: I’ve enjoyed having all four of these Outstanding English Student award winners in my ENG 283: Images of Women literature class this semester. All of them have brought up insightful and creative comments and questions that challenged our assumptions and pushed the class into deeper levels of critical thinking and analysis. Luke Martin is great at challenging assumptions and seeing deeper meanings and connections, and he is able to challenge assumptions with a humor and wit that makes class discussions more enjoyable.